

MAKING THE SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT GOALS REAL IN ADULT EDUCATION: TOWARDS A GENDER INFORMED NATIONAL PLAN

In 2015, 193 countries unanimously accepted Sustainable Development
Goal 4 - to bring quality, equitable, inclusive education and life long learning opportunities to their citizens

What are the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs)?

Why should you know?

Why are they important?

What do they have to do with education and training in Australia?

With inclusivity, gender and economic well-being?

How might they impact an adult's learning and training for decent work?

What are the issues for women and girls?

What are the key SDGs for education, gender and work?

4 QUALITY
EDUCATION

5 GENDER
EQUALITY

8 DECENT WORK AND ECONOMIC GROWTH

Join in this forum with Women in Adult and Vocational Education (WAVE), and Adult Learning Australia (ALA) in conjunction with the EU Centre at RMIT University to learn more about the SDGs and their implications for Australia.

Thursday 10th August 2017

10.00am-3.30 pm

Kathleen Syme Library and Community Centre

251 Faraday Street, Carlton, Melbourne.

(Any tram from Swanston Street to Melbourne University Stop)

Cost: $25 at registration to cover refreshments

More information from: Linda Simon (WAVE): lindasimon2@bigpond.com

Registration: <https://ala.asn.au/making-the-sustainable-development-goals/>

